Tempe's new Business Resource and Innovation Center (BRIC) is your space to build successful ventures, scale existing businesses, train staff and plan your next steps. BRIC is a staffed co-working space supported by the City of Tempe Economic Development Department in the Tempe Public Library, 3500 S. Rural Road, Tempe. Best of all, it's free to use.

Attend regular workshops led by experts in finance, marketing, taxes, social media, attracting talent, teen entrepreneurship, insurance, legal issues and more. Sign up for the free ASU Startup School or take care of your business in the co-working space.

We can help you:

- Research your business idea
- Learn how to create a successful company with ASU Startup School
- Attend workshops on topics ranging from marketing to best hiring practices to accessing capital
- Meet with a business mentor
- Reserve our conference room for meetings or interviews
- Work smart in our free co-working space
- Meet like-minded entrepreneurs
- Train your staff
- Host business events such as hiring events, board meetings or meet-ups at BRIC
- Learn about money-saving state and federal business incentives and programs

Facility benefits:

- 8-person conference room equipped A/V presentation needs
- Free Wi-Fi
- A 50-seat meeting and event room equipped with A/V presentation needs, tables and chairs
- Adjacent café and coffee bar with catering capabilities
- Patio workspace
- Comfortable indoor co-working space for groups or individuals
- Whiteboards, media table
- Tempe Public Library amenities

ASU Startup School

Startup School is a series of nine facilitated workshops wherein entrepreneurs learn how to develop a successful venture.
